

in between

Arden Jones

I'd like to see
What's in the in between
I've been to either side
Neither one seems right

At the wrong time
And in the wrong place
I guess I get surprised
When they meet me halfway
Invite them inside
I assume that I'm safe
Motherfuckers pick sides
I get punched in the face

So I'm good
I switch sides like
Nothing in this world
That could make my mind right
And every single day
Just a day in hindsight
So please tell me what's what

I'd like to see
What's in the in between
I've been to either side
Neither one seems right

I'd like to know
Where you and I can go
So that we're not alone
Content with rested souls

That's the crazy thing about surviving
You talkin' to yourself and fuckin' lying
Stop lying
Get right
And leave it all behind 'till you die

That's the crazy thing about surviving
You talkin' to yourself and fuckin' lying
Stop lying
Get right
And leave it all behind 'till you die

I'd like to see
What's in the in between
