

Cassandra, Pt. 2

Area 11

Still

Although it doesn't really matter now
I can't believe that I got so far,
I got so far behind my love

You use me, and I use you
I'm your savior, you're my muse
The best friend that you been to me
But I wanna be your enemy
(I wanna be your enemy)

You stare at me with omnivorous eyes
You want a reaction, want a reaction
You wear a red dress when you're in a bullfight
You're drawing attention to your double life in dreams.

I'm coming to find you
And when I wake up, I want anyone else
'Cause I don't love you
It's what I'm telling myself

This was the moment, this was the place
This was the night that everything changed
I'm hiding from you, hiding from you, hiding from you,
'Cause we are the same

We're not just numbers we are alive
A digital haunt in an analogue line
I'm hiding from you, hiding from you, hiding inside you,
'Cause we are the same

Woo

Wait, just wait for me and I'll come around
Back up, log on and we'll leave this town
And we'll run around
And live in secret worlds and say our secret words

And I'm still encrypted, I am a machine
The ego behind this computer screen
My best friend that I've never seen
That's turned you into my enemy

No, it's all in my mind I feel
I should save myself before this gets too real

This was the moment, this was the place
This was the night that everything changed
I'm hiding from you, hiding from you, hiding from you,
'Cause we are the same

We're not just numbers we are alive
A digital haunt in an analogue line
I'm hiding from you, hiding from you, hiding inside you,
'Cause we are the same
