Here I am caught in your lies again All those years thrown away There's not much left of me to save

Why take all this from me?
I've nothing to believe in (falling down again)
I wish my life away
As I face another endless day

Now when I look So ugly you seem to me Everything that we said, all means shit now It's gone

Why take all this from me?
I've nothing to believe in (falling down again)
I wish my life away
As I face this endless day
