Parasitic

Lost until your final breath I'll never be like you Climbing through another mind And taking what you choose Lost until your final breath You cannot criticise Story takes another twist With venom in your eyes

His life is negative, drown in his dreams He wants to be me Conflict runs through his mind Just to fulfill his parasitic needs

Lost until your final breath I'll never be like you Climbing through another mind And taking what you choose Lost until your final breath You cannot criticise Story takes another twist With venom in your eyes

His words are irrelevant Judging the things he claims to understand Forcing views down on me Closing my fist I draw back my hand

Lost until your final breath
I'll never be like you
Climbing through another mind
And taking what you choose
Lost until your final breath
You cannot criticise
Story takes another twist With venom in your eyes
