Losing Hold

Argent

Losing hold, everything just falls away
It's wrong if you should have to stay, if you wanna go
It's clear to me from everything you do somehow
Care is just a word right now, lost in all you say

I'm losing hold and my fingers slide
I see you slowly close your eyes on me
I'll keep mine open wide

Tried to be something I'm not made to be
I see the fear inside of me, it shadows off your face
Close to you, I cling to every word you say
Watching till you steal away, walking through my life

I'm losing hold and my fingers slide
I watch you slowly take the day from me
I'll keep the night to hide

I'm losing hold and my fingers slide
I watch you slowly take the day from me
I'll keep the night to hide

I'm losing hold and my fingers slide
I see you slowly close your eyes on me
I'll keep mine open wide

Losing hold, everything just falls away
It's wrong if you should have to stay, if you wanna go
