

The Feeling's Inside

Argent

When you woke up on this cold winter's day
She looked so beautiful, you cried
And if you're feeling very good today
It's 'cause you love her, the feeling's inside

She bought you coffee in a special cup
Which made you warm from deep inside
And if you're feeling very good today
It's 'cause you love her, the feeling's inside

And you begin to feel your life was changed
Because you loved her, there is nothing to hide
And though you know how well, it still seems strange
To think you loved her, you loved her, you loved her

And you begin to feel your life was changed
Because you loved her, there is nothing to hide
And though you know how well, it still seems strange
To think you loved her, you loved her, you loved her

She bought you coffee in a special cup
Which made you warm from deep inside
And if you're feeling very good today
It's 'cause you love her, the feeling's inside
You love her, you love her, the feeling's inside
You love her, you love her, the feeling's inside
You love her, you love her, the feeling's inside