Strangers Again

Ari Hest

Long before we ever touched Long before we knew too much I wish we were strangers again

Long before we ever kissed Long before I ever missed you I wish we were strangers again

I want yesterday to come back again Nothing is as simple as I once knew Why can't everything be the way it was Before the day that I lost you?

Long before the afterglow Long before our tears fell slow I wish we were strangers again