

Thin Lines

Ari Hest

I try to open up your mind
I try to find where we align
I try to meet you where you have to be
I try to save you from the pack
When they come harder on attack
I try to keep you here to some degree

It's the same play
On a new day
Thin lines
Shun what I say
Almost always
Thin lines

I watch you close up every door
I watch you casually abhor
I watch you meet me with contemptuous eyes
I watch you feed on what you like
And mock the foreign like a tike
I watch your anger take a deeper dive

It's the same play
On a new day
Thin lines
Shun what I say
Almost always
Thin lines

It's the same play
On a new day
Thin lines
Shun what I say
Almost always
Thin lines

I try to open up your mind
I try to find where we align
I try to meet you where you have to be
I try to save you from the pack
When they come harder on attack
I try to keep you when you don't keep me
