

OUTDATED

Aries

Mommy's alright, daddy's alright
They just needed a little bread
Forever, together
Why won't you come around this way?
I be running for the

Tip top, running from a gridlock
Running from a cop, all the years I've watched
Why the fuck you staring and looking?
Aim it right on top like a bullet

She said I won't weigh you down
What you got? Say it
Always sounds like I'm outdated
Face down, swing it my way love
Had enough, make me wait
Til you're ready

Stuck in limbo, the bars high as it is
And I don't do coke
With none of my new LA friends
Your falling off, falling off

I can't grasp it
How you feel when I ask; fantastic
Curling toes, doing splits, gymnastics
Pour some more up, in the lobby

I remember Tommy, couple years late
Hope you still identify me
I won't let you escape from me
All this, to push away from me

Mommy's alright, daddy's alright
They just needed a little bread
Forever, together
Why won't you come around this way?

She said I won't weigh you down
What you got? Say it
Always sounds like I'm outdated
Face down, swing it my way love
Had enough, make me wait
Til you're ready

She said I won't weigh you down
What you got? Say it
Always sounds like I'm outdated
Face down, swing it my way love
Had enough, make me wait
Til you're ready

Divided now, add it up
Falling back, catching up
Neither of us fast enough
Ride it out, passenger

Pockets full, red alert, resume
Call me up whenever you need to

Weigh you down
What you got? Say it
Always sounds like I'm outdated
Face down, swing it my way love
Higher, higher

She said I won't weigh you down
What you got? Say it
Always sounds like I'm outdated
Face down, swing it my way love
Had enough, make me wait
Til you're ready
