

Quiet Love

Arkells

Buzz me up to your apartment
Elevator to the eighth floor
My heart's beating so fast, honey
Now I'm standing at your front door

You said I really shouldn't be here
But I couldn't wait to see you
There's nobody that looks at me the way you do
I don't want no other lover now, I just want you

Can we just breathe?
Can we just see?
Can we just freeze this moment?
Babe, I never wanna let you go

So tell me what you need from me now
You know I need to hear it
There's nobody that talks to me the way you do
I don't want no other lover now, I just want you

Can we just breathe?
Can we just see?
Can we just freeze this moment?
Babe, I never wanna let you go

Things have changed
Can you look at me like you used to?
Can you look at me like when this love was brand new?
Is it too late?
Can you look at me like you used to?
Do you remember the first time I told you, "I love you?"

Things have changed
Can you look at me like you used to?
Can you look at me like when this love was brand new?
Is it too late?
Can you look at me like you used to?
Do you remember the first time I told you, "I love you?"

When the noise starts bleeding through
Oh, my quiet love, I just want you