

You came in silent
I was so blinded
I let you ride it
You had me smiling

The knife you're hiding
You slipped it right in
I almost died
But I just survived it

Where do we go from here?
Now that we cried our tears
I had to disappear

'Cause you had the audacity
To act like you can handle me
I almost lost my sanity
Living in your fantasy
And you do not compare to me
And that's what makes you scared of me
Oh, I am not your enemy

So I had to let you go
I had to let you go
I had to let you

What you tryna fight? What you tryna flaunt?
What you really here for?
Why you on the run? What you're hiding from?
Can you overcome all the things you've done

'Cause you hide behind a lie
Misconception that you try
So I took it as a sign
That you were never mine

'Cause you had the audacity
To act like you can handle me
I almost lost my sanity
Living in your fantasy
And you do not compare to me
And that's what makes you scared of me
Oh, I am not your enemy

So I had to let you go
I had to let you go
I had to let you go
