Hello?
You there?
Pick up

I don't know why you treat me this way
The ways you made me feel
Like you knew best for the both of us
Trust, I thought this thing was real
But you don't know the meaning of
The thoughts and the feelings you're speaking of
Made me think I don't believe in love

Didn't I give you everything that you wanted?
Held you in your darkest moments?
"Therapist" must have been my name on your phone
Session every time you call
Didn't I give you all my love and affection?
But baby, looking back on reflection
"Therapist" must have been my name on your phone
And I'm not picking up no more

Ooh, hoo
More, ah
Ooh, hoo

And I should have known not to mess with those Who need saving
Because it costs too much to love someone
Who's only used to escaping
And the funny thing is that I used to miss you
But the problem is that you don't know your issues
I was caught between your bedsheets and your tissues

Didn't I give you everything that you wanted?
Held you in your darkest moments?
"Therapist" must have been my name on your phone
Session every time you call
Didn't I give you all my love and affection?
But baby, looking back on reflection
"Therapist" must have been my name on your phone
And I'm not picking up no more

Ooh, hoo
More, ah
Ooh, hoo

Didn't I give you everything that you wanted?
Held you in your darkest moments?
"Therapist" must have been my name on your phone
Session every time you call
Didn't I give you all my love and affection? (Hello?)
But baby, looking back on reflection (Pick up, hello?)
"Therapist" must have been my name on your phone (Pick up)
And I'm not picking up no more

Ooh, hoo
More, ah

Ooh, hoo

Pick up, please, pick up
Pick up the phone, please?
