

Impurities

Arlo Parks

Piling in the Escalade
My chest is buzzing like a bluebird caged
Laugh like Juliette Binoche
You touch my leg to make sure I'm still there

I radiate like a star, like a star, star, star
I radiate like a star, like a star, star, star
I radiate like a star, like a star, star, star

When you embrace all my impurities
When you embrace all my impurities
When you embrace all my impurities
And I feel clean again

Oh, the look you threw me then was so intense that it was physical You're the rainbow in my soap, you notice beauty in more forms than most

I radiate like a star, like a star, star, star
I radiate like a star, like a star, star, star
I radiate like a star, like a star, star, star

When you embrace all my impurities
When you embrace all my impurities
When you embrace all my impurities
And I feel clean again

Don't hide the bruise when you know I'm watching, baby
Don't hide the bruise when you know I'm watching, baby
Don't hide the bruise, I know it's hard to be alive sometimes

I radiate like a star, like a star, star, star
I radiate like a star, like a star, star, star
I radiate like a star, like a star, star, star

When you embrace all my impurities
When you embrace all my impurities
When you embrace all my impurities
And I feel clean again
