

All The Best

Armor for Sleep

When the lights go down again
And it's just me inside my head
I can push the world away
All the pain I never shared
I let it permeate the air
I feel nothing now
I don't care

Isn't it odd the way
We can give our lives to someone else
And mean nothing to them one day?
And if I turn my head around, I'd see my blood on the ground
But I don't feel it now
'Cause I don't care
I don't care

When the lights go down again
And it's just me inside my head
I can push the world away
All the pain I never shared
I let it permeate the air
I feel nothing now
And I don't care

I don't care
I don't care
I don't care

'Cause up until my last breath
I'm dreaming till my world ends
I'm not sure what will happen
But I'm not scared of what comes next
I don't know where you landed
But I hope you found some solace
And even though you shattered my world
I wish you all the best, for whatever it's worth

'Cause up until my last breath
('Cause up until my last breath)
I'm dreaming till my world ends
(I'm dreaming till my world ends)
I'm not sure what will happen
But I'm not scared of what comes next
I don't know where you landed
(I don't know where you landed)
But I hope you found some solace
And even though you shattered my world
I wish you all the best, I wish you all the best
