

I'd Set Fire

Armor for Sleep

We are both the same
Counting down the days
Till all the colors fade
And we can slip away

I'd give you my life
If it bought you more time
I dream about the day
When your pain goes away

I'd set fire to the world for you
Just so you never lose the light in your eyes
I'd set fire to it all for you
We're wasting both our lives, tell me there's still time

Where did they all go
The worlds we used to know?
How can we get back?
Show me there's a path

I'd burn it all for you
I'd burn it all for you

I'd set fire to the world for you
Just so you never lose the light in your eyes
I'd set fire to it all for you
We're wasting both our lives, tell me there's still time

I'd burn it all for you
I'd burn it all

I'd set fire to the world for you
Just so you never lose the light in your eyes
Just so you never lose the light in your eyes
I'd set fire to it all for you
We're wasting both our lives, tell me there's still time
