

Who's Gonna Lie To You

Armor for Sleep

I look through the glass at them
Just to know that, I have eyes that work
But I still like the way it feels
To be so lost in you

Who's gonna tell you the truth
(Who's gonna tell you the truth)
Just to pull you back under

Who's gonna break you down
Just when you thought you were on top of the world
Who's gonna lie to you
Now that I'm gone

Just to be seen, I stay
So they know that, I can show my face
But I still like the way it feels
To hide away with you

Who's gonna tell you the truth
(Who's gonna tell you the truth)
Just to pull you back under

Who's gonna break you down
Just when you thought you were on top of the world
Who's gonna lie to you
Now that I'm gone
Who's gonna pick up where I left off?

I see you in a dream
Holding your hands over blankets made out of me
Pulling it off, you're freezing cold
Your breathing slows, you're all alone
You're freezing cold
Your breathing slows, you're all alone

Who's gonna break you down
Just when you thought you were on top of the world
Who's gonna lie to you
Now that I'm gone

Who's gonna wake up next to you
You were on top of the world
Who's gonna lie to you
Now that I'm gone
