

Theme Song

Arm's Length

Your blood kept on rushing to my brain
So I didn't stand up for a day
I'm living with no daylight to waste
But too scared of sleeping all the same

You're not as tall as you said you were
Count to a million and lose all of your innocence
You can never be too careful
Are you still having fun without a sense of guilt in it?

You're not as tall as you said you were
Count to a million, lose all of your innocence
You can never be too careful
Are you still having fun without a sense of guilt in it?
