

I Can See You From Here

Arms Like Yours

I grab my bags and turn to leave
I throw them in the van and then you scream
"Where do you think you're going? You can't leave yet!
You haven't even given me a goodbye kiss"

And I swear I won't forget where I come from
I'm coming home
I swear I won't forget where I'm from
I'm coming home

Baby baby, please don't cry
I won't be gone for very long
Please don't you worry
And she said, "Baby I'm not worried
I just don't want you to go.
How will I know you're OK?
And you'll be the first one that I call
When I wake up every morning.
What about all those girls throwing themselves at you?
Please don't forget me"

I swear I won't forget where I come from
I'm coming home
I swear I won't forget where I'm from
I'm coming home

"Baby, before you go there's something
I have to tell you
Baby I know I love you too"

I swear I won't forget where I come from
I'm coming home
I swear I won't forget where I'm from

Baby girl I'm coming home tonight
Just hold your breath and close your eyes
I'm gonna be in your arms tonight

Baby girl I'm coming home tonight
Just hold your breath and close your eyes
I'm gonna be in your arms tonight
