

Oh Dark Tears (Aftermath)

Arrayan Path

Standing on a hill, gazing down at your empire
So many friends lost in the shadows
Women and children who died for their vanity and Gods
He rode the clouds in the sky
Crossed the oceans, he arrived
The freedom in their eyes
Impending doom the time is nigh
A hero was their prize
Refused to go down under Oh nation of allies
Behold the great Alexander

a decade of warfare and disharmony only to fall into sorrow
Salamis failed, they lost in the game
Now they will never be free
A century passed, Alexander the Great
The legacy of Evagoras
Realized his dream, brought victory
Removed their Persian chain

I won't deny it
Dark tears oh they burn inside
Only the lying
Dark tears oh they burn inside
For freedom dying
Oh they burn inside
Pain is avoided
Oh well they burn inside

Riddle me this great seer of the north
Is it our destiny, fate?
To die on this island deserted alone
How long til' we're once more in chains?

I will rule, we shall never stop trying
For our world, we shall never kneel down
Better to a Macedon!

Oh we shall never stop trying
For our world, we shall never kneel down
For a king who has fearlessly died here
But his dream it was never fulfilled

I won't deny it
Dark tears oh they burn inside
Only the lying
Dark tears oh they burn inside
For freedom dying
Kingdoms united
