

I don't wanna sleep at all
I'm still waiting for your call
And when I walk you out the door
I can't help but ask for more
I know you've only got tonight
So I won't put up a fight
And I don't wanna sleep at all
'Cause I'm sad, but want it all

'Cause I feel my hands start shaking, it all makes sense
And that's why this time, baby, it's time well-spent
I want no time at all and nothing left
And barely enough to let you undress

And I won't ask you to stay
'Cause there's things I shouldn't say
And I know you're not the one
But what's wrong with having fun?
And while I'm keeping you in mind
I've never felt so blind
And if there's one thing I don't mind
It's that you're a different kind

'Cause I feel my hands start shaking, it all makes sense
And that's why this time, baby, it's time well-spent
I want no time at all and nothing left
And barely enough to let you undress

'Cause I feel my hands start shaking, it all makes sense
And that's why this time, baby, it's time well-spent
I want no time at all and nothing left
And barely enough to let you undress

'Cause I feel my hands start shaking, it all makes sense
And that's why this time, baby, it's time well-spent
I want no time at all and nothing left
And barely enough to let you undress

'Cause I feel my hands start shaking, it all makes sense
And that's why this time, baby, it's time well-spent
I want no time at all and nothing left
And barely enough to let you undress
