

I Will Be There

Art of Dying

Somebody's leaving
Somebody gives a damn
Somebody's dreaming
'Cause somebody knows they can, you can

For all the times this world ain't fair
I want you to know

I will be there to watch you grow
To let you know somebody cares
I will be there to love you whole
When nothing works and no one cares

Somebody's dying
An angel lost her wings
And I think I'm losing my mind
Sometimes their ain't no other way

And when this life gets hard to bear
I want you to know, yeah

I will be there to watch you grow
To let you know somebody cares
I will be there to love you whole
When nothing works and no one cares
I will be there, I will be there
I will be there, I will be there

Somebody's living
'Cause somebody gives a damn

I will be there to watch you grow
To let you know somebody cares
I will be there to love you whole
When nothing works and no one cares
I will be there, I will be there
I will be there, I will be there
I will be, I will be there
