

Water

Arthur Brown

Water flow
River restless wave
Floating with the morning
Through the sky

You can see the dawning
All around your head
Let the water roll
Let the water roll

Where the rainbow dresses you
In coats of no detail
See the end of yesterday and follow Earth's early smile
Where birds breeze time in one pure note
Shatters facing flight
See them dark holes in the sky
Letting in the night

River!

Let the water roll
Let the water roll

Surely you can see the water flowing cross the ploughed field
Catches snatches of tomorrow that they drift beyond you to afar

Let the water roll
Let the water roll
