

Favorite Vice

Arthur Nery

You hesitate when you're hurtin'
And you get too fake and uncertain
I knew you wouldn't save me if I'm fallin' in love
But if you would want affection baby, come to my heart

Know that you could stay a little while, baby
Hope I could make you feel alive

So open up your heart to me
Open up your heart to me
Now open up your heart to me
Open up your heart to me

You hesitate when you're hurtin', yeah yeah
And you get too fake and uncertain
I knew you wouldn't save me if I'm fallin' in love
But if you would want affection baby, come to my heart
Oh no

I think I finally found me a keeper
God picked her from my dreams
I'm a deep sleeper
Counting sheep out in the field
Kick it with her on my team
Chase dreams she's a goal keeper
Momma said
"Ain't no reason to be nervous, ain't a woman ever made perfect"
But I wasn't sure about you
Certain allure about you

Found all your flaws were my flaws too
I found myself a little way too close to the edge
A little way too comfy in your bed
Homie told me if I fell for this girl
I'd be dead so I told him I'll be buried with this woman that I'll marry
Who'd have thought it was all in my head
Who'd have thought it was all in my head
Didn't realize I fell till I hit the ground
Still hear the sound of my phone screen shatter in the background

So open up your heart to me
Open up your heart to me
Open up your heart to me
Open up your heart to me baby

Now open up your heart to me
Open up your heart to me
Open up your heart to me
Open up your heart to me

You know you're my favorite vice
You're the one I want when I am stressing
Oh, that kiss was so precise
Got me begging in my mind
Undress, babe
