

Life Puzzle

Arthur Nery

Let me dive into your ocean of emotions
Let me crawl into your senses love
Give you truth and my devotion
Slow motion feel your body as I lay you down

Cuz I won't really mind if you're gonna take all my clothes off (nee nah nah
)
To feel loved
Last piece of my life puzzle you should know that I need yah
So move your body close to mine

You've been talking to the last guy
He's been asking you one last time
If he could try to mend and fix your broken heart
Read back pages that you've torn apart
But all he gave you was destruction, desolation
He just believes in satisfaction (oh)
He cut your heart and left it open
Now you're all in
But I don't want you as an option, girl no

Let me dive into your ocean of emotions
Let me crawl into your senses love
Give you truth and my devotion
Slow motion feel your body as I lay you down

And I won't really mind if you're gonna take all my clothes off (nee nah nah
)
To feel loved
Last piece of my life puzzle you should know that I need yah
So move your body close to mine

I was lying to myself lately
Denying the truth of how you just make me feel
I'm in here sitting drinking whiskey at the corner
Waiting for you to come around and be my lover

Give me warmth and I will let you ignite
We'll walk the streets on fire and fill it with lights
No I don't wanna be pretentious you're a goddess
I sound a little bit ridiculous but I'm honest

Let me dive into your ocean of emotions
Let me crawl into your senses love
Give you truth and my devotion
Slow motion feel your body as I lay you down

And I won't really mind if you're gonna take all my clothes off (nee nah nah
)
To feel loved
Last piece of my life puzzle you should know (nee nah)
That I need yah
So move your body close to mine
