

Waste Your Time

Arty

Love's pouring out through this windowpane
I hate this, watching you waltz away
I've still got burns in the third degree
Unchain your chains from me

I know I lost your heart but I wanted to change it
I know I lost your heart but I wanted to change your mind
To turn back time
To redefine the past

And I won't waste your time
Not even for a minute
Soon as I say goodbye
I'm right back in it
Won't waste your time
Not even for a minute
Can't count the walls that I've climbed
To get back in it

I would not choose what I chose before
Let's find out what's behind the second door
It hurts like hell when your heaven leaves
Unchain your chains from me

I know I lost your heart but I wanted to change it
I know I lost your heart but I wanted to change your mind
To turn back time
To redefine the past

And I won't waste your time
Not even for a minute
Soon as I say goodbye
I'm right back in it
Won't waste your time
Not even for a minute
Can't count the walls that I've climbed
To get back in it
