

Smile

Aryia

Lonely
Grab onto hope
She's holding onto
The ocean
Let go and you'll be floating on

When the day turns black
You're alone in the dark
Got the world on your back
Do you know who you are

When everyday's the same
And you don't trust a thing
Not a word that they say
Cause they left you with the

Trauma
Can't get better she don't wanna
Find herself in the darkness
But nobody can see

When she's all alone she cries
She's been through the worst
Holds her tears behind a smile
But it's starting to hurt
Like a shadow hidden in the night
No longer afraid of the light
If you cared to try
You'd see the things that she hides
Behind her smile

Misunderstood for the way that she is
She will never give up
She don't ever give in Turn the pain into power
Fight back she devours
Let it rain, let it shower
But sometimes it gets

Lonely
Grab onto hope she's holding onto
The ocean
Let go and you'll be floating on

When she's all alone she cries
She's been through the worst
Holds her tears behind a smile
But it's starting to hurt
Like a shadow hidden in the night
No longer afraid of the light
If you cared to try
You'd see the things that she hides

Lonely
The ocean

Let go and you'll be floating on

When she's all alone she cries
