

A Beautiful Mistake

As Blood Runs Black

I look into the eyes of a broken heart pride thats made of stone

Why am I destroyed by love, what made your self so cold?

Is it the darkness that covers yourself black?

This isn't the girl I know who stabbed me in the back

Facing you, your words like a gun,

One shot when you speak so pull the trigger and aim at me

I'm stuck in the middle of a cross fire,

Breaking me down is what you desire

I wont let you

So my soul will seek, inside of me,

My true self and what I believe

What's to become of ourselves?

Has love lost its meaning?

You showed me the way to love, and I came about,

Then you stole my heart then left me

I'm waiting for the day to come that you'll save me

So my soul will seek, inside of me,

My true self and what I believe

What's to become of ourselves?

Has love lost its meaning?

Pushed to the edge of this world, this is why I cant love

The moment I hope that you'll come rescue me

I will fall in love with you

Take me away with you

Take me away with you

Suicide in my mind cant change

I cant live without you
