As Blood Runs Black

Your vision of a new life was impure Gave into temptation and threw away what you believed Your immaculate state of mind was only temporary Your faults, your flaws, got the best of you Your commitment, your pledge to another human being Was destroyed through curiosity Your goal in life is far out of reach You'll find yourself out of luck Branded into your cest-doomestic livestock Society kept track of your defiance Branded into your chest-domestic livestock Terror embedded into your thick mind Bearing your emblem with pride Plagues by its purpose in geness Subsequently flaunting its meaning Your vision of a new life was impure Gave into temptation and threw away what you believed Infestation Roc-a-way Your immaculate state of mind was only temporary Your faults, your flaws, got the best of you Got the best of you, got the best of you Your quard was let down Your past turned against you Your quard was let down Your past turned against you