

Always Set On Letting Go

As December Falls

The world is just a little too big for you
And it can't comply 'cause of all the shit you put it through
Hold on, hold on
As it all comes crashing at your feet now
Hold on, hold on
It's not your fault you couldn't see now

Whoa whoa, whoa whoa
You were the one who was always set on letting go
Turn this up, make the room a little louder
Move your feet, let your heart beat faster
Go on, go on, just a bit faster
Go on, just a little bit faster now
But you were always set on letting go

I'll pull you in just to keep you at arm's length
And you could say that I never felt the same
Hold on, hold on
Can't you hear the storm that's raging?
Hold on, hold on
I can see it, I can feel it now

Whoa whoa, whoa whoa
You were the one who was always set on letting go
Turn this up, make the room a little louder
Move your feet, let your heart beat faster
Go on, go on, just a bit faster
Go on, just a little bit faster now
But you were always set on letting go

Too good to be true
I watched as it broke in two
You said you fell apart
Well it's okay, take my heart
(Turn this up, make the room a little louder)
Too good to be true
I watched as it broke in two
(Turn this up, make the room a little louder)
You said you fell apart
Well it's okay, take my heart

(Turn this up, make the room a little louder)

Whoa, whoa
You were the one who was always set on letting go
Turn this up, make the room a little louder
Move your feet, let your heart beat faster
Go on, go on, just a bit faster
Go on, just a little bit faster now
But you were always set on letting go
