

More To You

As December Falls

So now you've got me thinking about
Everything you say, everything you do
And I know you're only hanging around
To see what extra damage you can do

So, hey, what now, you got a new girl
So, hey, oh wow, I bet she's your whole world

Until the lights go down
And you're still missing one thing
I can tell you this for free
Don't try coming back for me

Na na na now, don't pretend that
You're different from before
You only want it cause you don't have it anymore
I'm not chasing anything behind a closed door

And don't pretend that you're different from before
You swore you'd, give me more

You said that there was more to you
If only I had known the broken truth
And though shallow as an empty glass
You can say the words but they won't last

So, hey, what now, you got a new girl
So, hey, oh wow I bet she's your whole world

Until the lights go down
And you're still missing one thing
I can tell you this for free
Don't try coming back for me

Na na na now, don't pretend that
You're different from before
You only want it cause you don't have it anymore
I'm not chasing anything behind a closed door

And don't pretend that you're different from before
You swore you'd, give me more

You said that there is more to you
You said that there is more to you (You're as shallow as an empty glass)
You said that there is more to you (You can say the words, they won't last)
You said that there was more to you

(Na na na now, don't pretend that you're different from before)
Go!

You only want it, cause you don't have it anymore
I'm not chasing anything behind a closed door
And don't pretend that (you said that there was more to you) you're differen t from before
You swore you'd (you said that there was more to you) give me
You swore you'd give me more

You only want it want it (you said that there was more to you) cause you don
't have it anymore
I'm not chasing anything behind a closed door
You only want it want it (you said that there was more to you) cause you don
't have it anymore
I'm not chasing anything behind a closed door
You only want it want it (you said that there was more to you) cause you don
't have it anymore
I'm not chasing anything behind a closed door
You only want it want it (you said that there was more to you) cause you don

I'm not chasing anything behind a closed door
