

You Say When

As December Falls

You want to feel like the one
I've got you right where I want
You keep me out of the dark
But I still feel the spark
When I'm here next to you

You make me feel so alive
I've got to have you tonight
Feels like I'm walking in a dream
And I slip when I speak
And for that I'm blaming you

(Woah)
And I'll keep falling
(Woah)
Every now and again

If we're ever pulling apart
Let's just go back to the start
Every now and again
I've always loved that part

Let's just admit we were wrong
These conversations take too long
You say you know we're on the mend
Let's stick about until the end
We can fix it if we want

(Woah)
And I'll keep falling
(Woah)
Every now and again

If we're ever pulling apart
Let's just go back to the start
Every now and again
I've always loved that part
I'll keep falling you say when
I'll keep falling you say

Now I know that I've said too much
You send me yeah we've had enough
It's like thorn twisting in my side
I didn't know I was hypnotised
And now I know that I've said too much
You and me yeah we've had enough
It's like thorn twisting in my side
I didn't know I was hypnotised

(Woah)
And I'll keep falling
(Woah)
Every now and again

If we're ever pulling apart
Let's just go back to the start
Every now and again

I've always loved that part

(Woah)

I'll keep falling you say when
