

All I've Ever Known

As Everything Unfolds

All I've ever known

My eyes are open wide this time
See my horror, in this dishonour
Judgement doesn't look good on you
Your jury doesn't seem fair to me
A virtue signal, sitting in the middle
Are you listening?

Humble in my mistakes
Remedy I crave
I wish I didn't need to know
Didn't need to know better
Leaving space to grow
All I've ever known

All I've ever known

As we watch this crumble around us
Stay humble, as we follow
Jealousy doesn't look good on you
Your glory doesn't seem fair to me
A virtue signal sitting in the middle
Are you listening?

Humble in my mistakes
Remedy I crave
I wish I didn't need to know
Didn't need to know better
Leaving space to grow
All I've ever known

Sitting on the wayside
Hoping for a new ride
I'm running out of time
Sitting on the wayside
Waiting for a joyride
To make me feel again

To make me feel again
To make me feel again

To make me feel again
