

Slow Down

As Everything Unfolds

Mixed messages from my heart again
Crossed wires anything to stop the liars
All talk but no work
Distant and not heard
Screaming louder, shouting louder
I'm coming for your power

As I lay it out will you shoot me down
Heavy is the head that wears the crown

You're letting me shout out
While you're telling me to slow down
Bring me to life now
While you're letting me bleed out
You're letting me shout out
While you're telling me to slow down
Bring me to life now
While you're letting me bleed out

It's more than I would care to entertain
Living life in the fast lane (Fast lane)
Itching for more to gain
When our failures in life are how we stay maintained

As I lay it out will you shoot me down
Heavy is the head that wears the crown
As I lay it out will you shoot me down
Heavy is the head that wears the crown

You're letting me shout out
While you're telling me to slow down
Bring me to life now
While you're letting me bleed out
You're letting me shout out
While you're telling me to slow down
Bring me to life now
While you're letting me bleed out

While you're telling me to slow down
Bring me to life now while you're letting me bleed out

Faster down I go to the depths I know
So full of spite and worthless pride
As I lay it out will you shoot me down
Heavy is the head that wears the crown (Crown, crown)
Wears the crown (Crown)
Wears the crown (Crown)

You're letting me shout out
While you're telling me to slow down
Bring me to life now
While you're letting me bleed out
You're letting me shout out
While you're telling me to slow down
Bring me to life now
While you're letting me bleed out
