

The Void Within

As I Lay Dying

It moves through your eyes
It moves through your eyes
It pumps through my heart
The void within
It flows through our veins
It flows through our veins
But it tears us apart
It tears us apart

We all wanna believe
That our suffering means something
But we're scared to release
And live another way
'Cause pain's the only thing
That's always been with me
And peace is the only thing
That I have never seen

I wanna feel again
To fill the void within

I wanna feel again
It calls my name
Steady till I give in
To fill the void within
So far away
Still crave the same
I wanna feel again
Destroy the void within

Hear it in my voice
See it in my skin
Feel all the choices
That I have lived
The mistakes I've made
The weight carried
I had given up, betrayed
My hopes and dreams

I wanna feel again
It calls my name
Steady till I give in
To fill the void within
So far away
Still crave the same
I wanna feel again
Destroy the void within

I didn't believe
My life meant anything
As I fought to be free
From this disease
It was love that put me back
On my feet

Now I face the wake of anguish
That was left behind

The aftermath of a warpath
A buried mountain of regret for me to Mine

The aftermath of a warpath
It moves through your eyes
It pumps through my heart
