

An overwhelming feeling of hatred
It's taking over and I've already said too much
I can't take anymore of your wisdom
I'll disregard all of your opinions
You can't fucking tear me down
I wear my scars strong and proud
One day you'll hear my story
Don't dare stand for my path of glory

I never had the chance to open my eyes
I look down on myself to open my heart
You are the monster
I have always dreamed of
I'll face scarlet in a face vile liar
You'll always be too blind to see
You'll always be too blind to see

Every God damn word you say is fucking infectious
Even when you look at me it makes me nauseous
You should die alone
You two should die alone

Every God damn word you say is fucking infectious
Even when you look at me it makes me nauseous
You should die alone
You two should die alone

I have had enough of these problems
Constantly growing and no time to solve them
I am falling faster and faster
Into depression and violent oppression

I could be myself
If I knew who I was
I find solace in sound
Take a shot from the violence
And another for silence
It's too late to lose hope now

You can't fucking tear me down
I wear my scars strong and proud
One day you'll hear my story
Don't dare stand for my path of glory

Every God damn word you say is fucking infectious
Even when you look at me it makes me nauseous
You should die alone
You two should die alone

I could be myself
If I knew who I was
I find solace in sound
Take a shot from the violence
And another for silence
It's too late to lose hope now