

Sweat & Tears

Asaf Avidan

Glue me back, I'm fallen and broken on the floor My small ceramic pieces are bleeding like the shore My head says "no", my body says "go" my heart says "I don't know, just flow" and I am left there, standing, wearing my best smile and you don't say a word, instead we wait a while you know how it goes from here two sets of skin and lots of sweat and tears

Suddenly your tired hand is resting on my knee and I can feel your warmth and I can't wait to be clinging to your lower lip with my bare teeth clinging to your love with my lost belief

ain't it fun when you ain't alone no more ain't it fun when someone tickles your core we're two vacant shells entangled in each other in the dark we're two vacant cells imprisoning each other in the dark
