

Sweet Babylon

Asaf Avidan

Take my body, pull it down
Be the words upon my tongue
Oh sweetest queen of harlots
Let me taste your praise

Let me drown in you, let me feast
Let me ride your seven headed beast
Let me strip before you, and step back in your gaze

And I know there's a night
At the edge of this light
I'm coming home
Sweet Babylon
I'm coming home

Abomination of hearts and sea
Rain your terror down on me
Untame the blueness in these eyes
I'll be the shadow by your side

Oh goddess of unholy things
Bring me all your beauty brings
Show this wretched, weak apostate where his gods reside

And I know there's a night
At the edge of this light
I'm coming home
Sweet Babylon
I'm coming home

I bet your hills remember, your towers ring
All the tunes I used to sing
Let me try them on my lips again
You know I never miss a note

Oh dirty mother of whore and thief
I went away but time is brief
Let me spend all that is left with you
Until I have to float

And I know there's a night
At the edge of this light
I'm coming home
Sweet Babylon
I'm coming home

And I know there's a night
At the edge of this light
I'm coming home
Sweet Babylon
I'm coming home

I'm coming home
Sweet Babylon
I'm coming home

I'm coming home

Sweet Babylon
I'm coming home
