

Mare Crisium

Asgaard

I close my eyes...
My body drifts on the invisible wave of infinity
I touch the stars
One differs clearly from the others

It's Her... I recognize
How many time has passed
Silence I dreamed of Her brilliance
For the first time...?

I remember those nights
I remember loneliness and pain
Closed in the crystal of my tears
And now I do see Her... so close
Only to reach out the hand

Further, stallions of rapture! Raise me over life,
Take my body beyond its limitations!
Let the imagined flower of love rest in the heart
Of brilliance... For Ever
