

On The Edge

Ásgeir

I've been looking all over the map
For a small ruby stone to offer you
Though we're divided by a stretch of green and blue
I'll bridge the gap
I've been walking on a narrow ledge
Chasing an emerald to offer you
And had to do some things
I never thought I'd do
Out on the edge

Still of all my time the lion's share
I've been so worried only if you knew
If anything would ever be worthy of you
And if you'd care
