

I Started A Fire

Ash

I started a fire and I watched it grow
And now it burns out of control
I want you bad
I need you bad

I leapt off a precipice
And I'm falling into an abyss
For your love
I need your love

I want to see into your soul
Fall into the unknown

I looked in your eyes ocean blue
And straight away my heart it knew
You're the one
You're the one

Your beauty leaves me mesmerised
In a waking dream I'm paralysed
I want your love
I need your love

I want to know
I want to hold
The girl who can't be owned
Let into your soul
Deep inside your mystery
A vow of secrecy
Never let you go

Thunder storms and summer rain
Gothic gardens, hurricanes
This black heart I know so well
I'm bewitched, under your spell
I fear my life's unravelling
This grand illusion vanishing
All I need is you close to me
I have seen it in my dreams
You can set me free
If you say those words to me

I woke up I was stunned and blind
I just can't get you off my mind
Say my name
Say my name

We talked and talked under stormy skies
As cherubs let their arrows fly
I'm the one
I'm the one

I want to know
I want to hold
The girl who can't be owned
Let into your soul
Deep inside your mystery

A vow of secrecy

She can't be owned

I want to know
I can't let go
I want to hold the girl who can't be owned...
