1. On warm June evenings She would come to my house
Dmi
Still in her school skirt And her summer blouse
Es B
Talking too long as the night came on
C F
It was the best time of my life
B
Her bee stung lips, Kisses sweeter than wine
Dmi
The things she whispered With breathless sighs
Es B
The summer air was soft and warm
C F
Her eyes were making silent demands
C D
And as her hair came undone in my hands

2. Driving her home after midnight
I felt so good everything was alright
Her thoughts seemed so lost in the night sky
I remember everything
I don't know why these things ever end
I sometimes wish it was that summer again
I still see her in my sleep
And hear the sighing of the summer wind
Still I don't regret one thing
