

The Dead Disciples

Ash

Spinning out into the void Waking up and feeling like you've been destroyed Thirty-one nights of suicide Near obliterated but you're still alive

Fearless state of mind If you believe then you will never die

I can feel you In my mind I am feeling So alive

In the shadows of death and gloom Hiding seeking solace in the catacombs Dead and resurrected in a foreign land Reincarnated as a hawk-like man

Fearless state of mind If you create then you will never die

I can feel you In my mind (I am feeling So alive) When the storm is breaking And the ghosts are walking When the walls are shaking Watch the stars exploding

In the nightmares of the paranoid Shaking in the fallout from the asteroid Every waking minute learning mind control Soar over the ocean and release your soul

(I can feel you In my mind I am feeling So alive) When the storm is breaking And the ghosts are walking When the walls are shaking Watch the stars exploding When the storm is breaking And the ghosts are walking When your heart is aching Watch the stars exploding Watch the stars exploding
