

Cherry Trees

Ashe

Hold it right there
You look just like someone I used to know
But it couldn't be you
The person I knew
Wore different cologne

Forgive me for staring
Your voice is making all of my hairs stand up
The thought of your hands and the way that you're standing is choking me up

I must be confused, you don't remember me but I remember you
I can't help but see that even though you're here, you're not here with me
I wish it could be
Let's get up and leave

Carve our names in cherry trees
Spray the room with cheap perfume
Stay up late to watch me sleep
Cut my hair to look like you

Turn my stomach into knots
Kiss me like you did before
I'm so sorry I forgot
You're not mine anymore

To be perfectly honest
I never expected to see you again
God! I'm embarrassed
It still hurts as bad as the day that you left

All too uncanny
My misunderstanding
So glad you look happy
But I wish you'd look at me

I wish you'd carve our names in cherry trees
Spray the room with cheap perfume
Stay up late to watch me sleep
Cut my hair to look like you

Turn my stomach into knots
Kiss me like you did before
I'm so sorry I forgot
You're not mine anymore

You're not mine, you're not mine anymore
You're not mine, you're not mine anymore
I rewind
And still find
I'm unsure
You're not mine, you're not mine anymore

You're not mine, you're not mine anymore
You're not mine, you're not mine anymore
I rewind
And still find
I'm unsure

You're not mine, you're not mine anymore

Carve our names in cherry trees
Spray the room with cheap perfume
Stay up late to watch me sleep
Cut my hair to look like you

Turn my stomach into knots
Kiss me like you did before
I'm so sorry I forgot
You're not mine anymore