

Imperfect

Ashent

Good intentions cloud the promises we soon regret
Just like the calm before the storm
A gaze once focused see how quickly now they fall
With emotions swept away, is there anything to save?

You scream in silence, the page turns
As the ember grows with resistance

Once burn bright
But now I'm cold

Take my hand and feel my heartbeat now
We'll dance till the dawning new day sun
I've tried long to hide the secret inside
Imperfect I fall in your eyes

Voices echo as the weight shifts on the glass
We're left to watch our lives self-implode
Bruised and broken from this twisted scheme I crawl
A fool no more to hear the serpent's call run from the past right into your arms

Take my hand and feel my heartbeat now
We'll dance till the dawning new day sun
I've tried long to hide the secret inside
Imperfect I fall in your eyes
Take my hand and feel my heartbeat now
We'll dance till the dawning new day sun
I've tried long to hide the secret inside
Imperfect I fall in your eyes
