

Criminal

Asher Monroe

You would never
Give me one reason why
You could never
Look me right in the eye
The light is gone I see no more
Hurt from the pain inside
From all these lies lies lies

Was it for the money?
Was it for the fame?
Were you chasing glamor?
Was it all a game?
Should've known you were trouble
From the very first day

You ain't gone murder
My heart & my soul
This Love is a battlefield
Trying to stay out of the cold
You left me Broken (I'm up against the wall)
You Cut me Open (we could have had it all)
You left me Broken (now it's your turn to fall)
You left me all alone
You're just a criminal
You're just a criminal

Now I'm free
Justice isn't blind
In the end, sweet revenge
Was always meant for mine
Our love is done so all your tears just get left behind
Your turn to cry, cry, cry

Say goodbye to money
Say goodbye to fame
You were chasing glamor
Now all you got was shame
Should've known I was trouble from the very first day

You ain't gone murder
My heart or my soul
This Love is a battlefield
Trying to stay out of the cold
You left me Broken (I'm up against the wall)
You Cut me Open (we could have had it all)
You left me Broken (now it's your turn to fall)
You left me all alone
You're just a criminal

Playing with a loaded gun
Any second you was ready to blow
Any chance you had you did me wrong
I think it's time I better let you go

Criminal, criminal

You ain't gone murder

My heart or my soul
This Love is a battlefield
Trying to stay out of the cold
You left me Broken (I'm up against the wall)
You Cut me Open (we could have had it all)
You left me Broken (now it's your turn to fall)
You left me all alone
You're just a criminal
You're just a criminal
You're just a criminal
