

Rain or Shine

Asher Monroe

Individually they're weak, mentally incompetent
Like animals after a long famine

It's all about the hustle and grind
If you ain't built with tough skin you might as well step aside
Are you the predator or prey?
Learned my lesson the hard way, that karma don't play
It don't matter the color of your skin
Whether gay, straight, you were born to fit in Life is a roller coaster of chance
If you don't leave your mark, who knows the story will end

Ignoring the truth while defying the odds
A road map of sins, is there a beginning or end
Hope is a weapon
While faith secures

If you wanna play the game, you gotta learn to play it right
At first you don't succeed, dust yourself off and try
Find a way to free, free your mind, free your mind
Rain or shine

Clock keeps ticking, n-n-n-n-no more wasting time
Nowhere to run or hide, you might fall behind
No capacity, no room
Yet we are in a microscopic zoom
On a planet ever-changing, waiting to bloom
Life will unveil its secrets no more than a parent
Wants the best for their children, patience the key to success

Stop and stare to all that is around
The pain gets lifted, listen for the sound
Release your inhibition
Follow your intuition

If you wanna play the game, you gotta learn to play it right
At first you don't succeed, dust yourself off and try
Find a way to free, free your mind, free your mind
Rain or shine
