

Watching Over You

Asher Monroe

Do you ever wonder what we could've been?
Our love cuts like a knife so paper-thin
I wish we had the chance to meet again
So that our moments never die

I'm gone but in your heart, I'll always stay
Even though we live in a world so dark and gray
I'm by your side until the end of days
I'm always watching over you
I'm always watching over you
I'm always watching over you
I'm always watching over you
I'm always watching over you

Do you ever wonder what we could've been?
Our love cuts like a knife so paper-thin
I wish we had the chance to meet again
So that our moments never die

I'm gone but in your heart, I'll always stay
Even though we live in a world so dark and gray
I'm by your side until the end of days
I'm always watching over you
I'm always watching over you
I'm always watching over you
I'm always watching over you
I'm always watching over you
