

Break Bread

Asher Roth

Should we break our bread? Should we break our bread, we should break bread

We should break our bread, should we break our bread, we should break our bread

Where shall I begin? Let's chop it a little bit about these peo ple called friends

The ones you can lean on and your life depends

On, watch who you call up cause that all depends, homes, it's q uite a few different breed of them

But the right ones, to break bread with too damn slim,

And those ones are so sincere to see you get it unlike some

Who hate to see that talented dude with it

Mad, cause they pockets ain't kilo enough, like a fat boy neck in a barber chair with a shape up

And Beijing with a Cesar such a back stabber thou shall shit on you, like chicks in a cup

I know it sounds fucked up, but that's how life goes Never know in who to trust but this what life blows

So just take it as you go

We should break our bread, should we break your bread? We shoul d break bread

We should break our bread, should break our bread, we should br eak bread

I look around like I don't know these motherfuckers

It's just because I got a couple bucks and now I'm stuntin'

And they wanna hang around eat some lunch, have some fun, smoki ng blunts, getting drunk

Guess I'm just another sucker, huh

All of a sudden bubble butts they wanna fuck

I'm coming quick enough one of them is getting lucky

Cause chill out my son then she'll take it all from me

Leaving nothing but some crumbs and a little alimony, so

When all you homies wanna do is hit the club

Popping bottles, living up, but you're paying for the bub

I mean it bruh they seem like they're so nice, they're the ones who prey on you

And wait till you're just right

But Goldilocks got the slyness of a fox

I can see it if it's hot like the mind of a cop so hold up

Stop everything feel as we never been, naw, hell naw, we ain't breaking bread.

We should break our bread, should we break your bread? We shoul
d break bread

We should break our bread, should break our bread, we should break bread

We should break our bread, should we break your bread? We should break bread

We should break our bread, should break our bread, we should break bread.
