

On Fire

Ashes Remain

I've been waiting all my life for something more
To awaken and pick myself up off the floor
I've been searching just for a little light
Nothing was working till you brought me to life

I'm on fire and you're the one holding the match
I've been inspired and I'm not looking back this time
I'm gonna live everyday like it's my last, now that I believe
Gonna leave my failures in the past like a criminal set free

Back together, no more pieces on the ground
Better weather since you came around

I'm on fire and you're the one holding the match
I've been inspired and I'm not looking back this time
I'm gonna live everyday like it's my last, now that I believe
Gonna leave my failures in the past like a criminal set free

I'm on fire and you're the one holding the match
I've been inspired and I'm not looking back

I'm on fire and you're the one holding the match
I've been inspired and I'm not looking back this time
I'm gonna live everyday like it's my last, now that I believe
Gonna leave my failures in the past like a criminal set free
