

In Your Head

Ashland

Somehow I lost my voice
Became the silent type
And I've never been the one
To enjoy the spotlight

I don't wanna be a hypocrite pretending
Like I've been perfectly fine
And if I did then forget it cause I
Couldn't ever live with the lie
And now I see the light

I had to go through hell
Just to make me understand
(Just to make me, just to just to make me)
That all the worst nightmares
Only happen in your head
(Only happen, only only happen in your head)

So now I've got a choice
Become who I was made to be
But it's gunna take some faith
To release this energy

I don't want to be a critic living
Just to give a little washed up advice
I wanna be the percentage that didn't
Quit when it became a fight
And now I see the light

I had to go through hell
Just to make me understand
(Just to make me, just to just to make me)
That all the worst nightmares
Only happen in your head
(Only happen, only only happen in your head)

So close now
Can't let it get away
So close now
Can't let it get away from me

I'm not asleep anymore, I'm wide awake
I'm not asleep anymore, I'm wide awake
I'm not asleep anymore, I'm wide awake
Awake, awake

I had to go through hell
Just to make me understand
(Just to make me, just to just to make me)
That all the worst nightmares
Only happen in your head
(Only happen, only only happen in your head)

So close now
Can't let it get away
So close now
Can't let it get away from me
